Goldplated Flatware Care

Goldplated flatware is recommended to be plated on only 18/8 or 18/10 stainless. Plating thickness may vary by pattern. Commercial application goldplated flatware is always recommended. Retail gold flatware is not recommended for commercial applications.

- Do not use harsh detergents or abrasives on goldplated flatware
- All goldplated flatware should be hand dried after it comes out of the wash cycle
- Gold is a soft metal, therefore, most damage occurs when flatware is subjected to hot water in the washing cycle which softens the gold until cooled
- Place flatware carefully in a flatware basket to prevent scratching, rubbing, banging, or damage to the finish
- Do not use a burnishing machine on goldplated flatware
- Hand dry at room temperature until completely cool
- Hand polishing of goldplated flatware is recommended
- Goldplated flatware will not tarnish
